The future of the lynx and of hunting also depends on you.

When a lynx dies, you lose too.
Respect hunting seasons, boundaries and reserve areas

Report the use of mass and indiscriminate hunting methods

Choose the method of hunting that is least dangerous to the lynx and only hunt rabbit when the population is high

If a lynx enters the area when hunting partridge with decoys, frighten it away responsibly

A good hunter...
- Checks before pulling the trigger
- Knows that the lynx is not his enemy but an ally in fox control
- Loves, knows and respects nature
- Checks before shooting
- Feels proud to share his hunting ground with other great hunters such as the Iberian lynx
